The above is a photo of the new annex, and purchased the old Dees garage building being erected by W. C. Sterling in North Pascagoula street as it looks this week, only partially completed.

This will be the largest building as to floor space in Pascagoula, be-80x100 feet; and as will be noted by reference to the picture built of brick and concrete and iron, a substantial and imposing building.

Mr. Sterling's business as agent for the popular Chevrolet line of motor cars and accessories, as well as a general repair garage, demanded more room than the triangular brick building now occupied by him, so he cast around to find a location for an annex, and purchased the old Dees homestead on North Pascagoula street, just across the street from his present garage, and at once commenced the erection of the above building.

The new building will be divided into two sections. (One 30x100 feet will house an auto paint, upholstery and finishing shop, with modern equipment, where cars of all kinds will be made to look like new. This space has been leased to Mr. Albert G. Evans, of Tupelo, Miss., who will commence business as soon as the building is ready for occupancy.

The main section of the new building will be occupied by Mr. Sterling himself, as the main show and sales room of the Chevrolet cars and accessories, and a general storage warehouse for the public, especially catering to the tourist trade. The Macgough Garage, which is the official name of Mr. Sterling's business, will have at its disposal a space 50x100 feet, room enough to display several of every model of the Chevrolet car, and keep a stock on hand ready for immediate delivery to purchasers. There will be food and retiring rooms for travelers, with excellent accommodations for ladies, plenty of desk room, etc., all supplied with improvements and con-conveniences of the most modern type.

The front of the building will be attractive in style, with a high wall and ornamental cornice, large double doors and handsome plate glass show windows, in fact, everything that goes to make an up-to-date garage and auto sales building, which will be an ornament to the street and quite an addition to gasoline row.

Mr. Sterling evidently has abiding faith in the future of Pascagoula, for this building and equipment, with the grounds, represent an investment of about $20,000.00 in addition to the old garage and machinery, but seems amply justified in the rapid development of the automotive industry.

Flies Dangerous As Carriers Of Germs, Control Urged

can't be kept from privies by building only the approved sanitary type.

Houseflies should be kept from contact with food and drink, and from utensils used for preparing and serving food. Homes, food handling stores, and public eating places, alike, must have doors, windows and porches properly screened. Sprays, fly traps, and swatting will keep down stray flies that enter in spite of other control methods.

ATING CLASS REES MIRCHT COURT ORGANIZE

Local Students Hear Judge W. White Instruct Grand Jury in Duties

Attendant B. P. Russum accompanied members of the graduating class to the courthouse Monday morning where they witnessed the organization of the court and heard Judge A. White deliver the usual address to the grand jury. The class was large enough to hear the cases of the judge set a time for them. One or two criminal cases were tried before the students departed for their class rooms.

CONTRACTS FOR RESERVOIR

Storage Tank to Be Erected beside Present Water Plant in Delmas Avenue.

City council at its meeting on Monday let the contract for the construction of a 250,000-gallon capacity reservoir to The Miller Hutchinson Company of Ocean Springs, at the sum of $12,281.66, the contract including pipe fittings, connections, etc., to connect the reservoir with the water system.

Other firms put in bids for the reservoir, the unsuccessful bidders being J. B. McCreary Company of $13,325.31; George P. Hopkins of $14,310.43; Alonzo B. of Pass Christian, $14,784.90; Construction Company of $14,987.12; A. C. Jones of $17,717.63; W. B. Co. of Meridian, Miss., $19,

Miller Hutchinson Company is engaged in putting the finishing touches on the seawall at Ocean Springs and has on hand the equipment and much of the material needed for constructing the reservoir so that it can go ahead at once and be completed early.

The contract provides for a circular reservoir 53 feet in diameter and approximately 10 feet deep. The contractor is to prevent taking them too small, but enforcement was notoriously lax.

The speaker urged more attention to the enforcement of state laws, saying that proper enforcement would mean more employment and more wealth in this section.

GARAGE AND CONTENTS DESTROYED BY FIRE

W. C. Sterling Loses Private Garage and Two Cars by Midnight Fire. Partially Insured.

Fire of unknown origin, discovered by passers on the street about one o'clock Monday night, destroyed the private garage of Mr. W. C. Sterling situated in the rear of his home in South Pascagoula street. In the garage were two cars, a big Buick Sedan and a Graham-Page truck. Both were entirely destroyed, the garage being burned almost to the ground.

The fire alarm was sounded and the department responded promptly but the garage, a neat frame structure, was in full blaze when the fire was discovered and nothing could be done to save it. Mr. Sterling's residence adjoining was somewhat scorched by the intense heat, but the efforts of the firemen prevented its catching on fire.

Building and contents were only partially covered by insurance. Mr. Sterling estimates his loss at $1,200.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETS WITH DEMONSTRATION AGENT

The annual meeting of the County Council of Women was held last Saturday in Pascagoula, Mrs. Iola Havens, county demonstration agent, being the hostess of the occasion and entertaining the members at her home in Jackson avenue.

This council is composed of women from the various communities of the county, who act as an advisory board to the county demonstration agent, assisting her in planning and carrying out the women and girls' club work throughout the county.

At this meeting, at which 16 women were present, a program was outlined for the women's short course, and plans for the year's work were adopted. This includes a cotton dress contest, which will be held the first Saturday in March, and will be open to all women of the county. There will also be a

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet their program in the near future and have already commenced a repertoire composed of musical selections requested by wire.

Four children of the late J. B. Bateon, who was Mr. Glenn Pascagoula, will broadcast over WSMB at New Orleans Monday evening, February 13, 10 o'clock. The children are J. Max and M. M., Jr., aged 17, 11, respectively, and they are musicians, inheriting their talent from their mother, who was one of the state's most charming and accomplished musicians. The children now reside in Millard, Pearl River county, and have continued their musical education. The notice of the broadcast was given in the New Orleans station in New Orleans, one of the strongest in the South, which has arranged to broadcast the program prepared by them. The children are nieces and nephews of members of the "Clark Family Orchestra" which broadcast a lightful program over WCCN Monday afternoon.

INTERESTING CRAFT IS BACK IN PORT TO LO WITH SALVAGED

The "Reclaimer," from New Jersey, auxiliary school reclamation department of the Coast Guard, put into port at 5 o'clock Thursday evening to pick up salvage such material as can be used by Division 8 Off-Shore force. The Reclaimer is in command of Capt. W. J. Mazzoni and has eight men.

This very interesting craft is representative of Uncle Sam's salvage all material at Coast bases that is no longer usable but which can be converted to other uses. She will be in Pascagoula the week-end and proceed to Newburg and Miami.
